Tuesday's Schedule.

Prolonged continuance of the inclement weather made the postponement of the baseball game which was to have been played by the St. Louis and Pittsburg clubs on Monday afternoon an unavoidable necessity. Hence loyal followers of the local club were not obliged to go into cold storage. The day was so cold and so wet that baseball playing was out of the question.

The game with Pittsburg which was to have been played on April 22 will be played on July 29. The Chicago game which was postponed from Thursday, April 19, will be played on July 25. Both these games will be played in St. Louis. If the weather permits playing on April 23 there will be a game between the St. Louis and Pittsburg clubs at League Park. Play will be called at 8:30 p. m.

The St. Louis club is due to open the Pittsburg grounds on Friday next. The floods which at present prevail in Pennsylvania may make a postponement of this game imperative. Just at present the Pittaburg baseball park is part of the bottom of the Allegheny River. The park is situated on low ground and floods at every rise of the Allegany River. In the part was of the river.

The Pittsburg club got into St. Louis Monday morning. With it came Pitcher Edward Waddell and Harry Pulliam.

Comiskey is finding his chickens coming home to roost. He started out to break up the St. Louis, Chicago and Cincinnati teams of the National League. His own Chicago club is badly broken up. Callahan is out of it. Tim Flood would not play with him. Griffith is so lame he cannot do anything but draw his $4.00 a season. Harvey is also broken up and unfit to play. Shugart is crippled and the season opens on Tuesday. Mertes must play short and Brain second, while Hartman and isbell will be the other infielders. Comiskey's all-star team is certainly on the Porktown Limited.

"Wefers is young in the game and has things to learn like the rest of us," said Burkett on Monday. "He goes after a fly ball well, judges perfectly and holds it surely. We have been having bad skies, too. He will be an educated batter rather than a natural one. His eye is good and he will remodel his swing. It is worth the price of admission to see him go to first base or to run anywhere. We ball players can learn a lot about moving fast from him. I am ertain he will be a first-class man inside of this season.

Hot Springs, Ark., April 22.—Caspar Leon was declared the victor in the fifth round in a fight Monday night with Jack Madden scheduled to last twenty rounds. Madden was disqualified by the referee for fouling. The fight was spirited for the first three rounds, each of which ended in Leon's favor and without an accident he would have won easily had the battle continued. He was in excellent condition and made the best showing he has ever made here. Both men were warned against striking in clinchs. But the warning was entirely ignored by Madden, Several of his fouls were overlooked, but in the fifth round he seemed to want to test the referee's patience and fouled Leon London, April 22.—At the National Sporting Club, London, to-night "Jack" Roberts of England knocked out "Billy" Smith, the American, in the eighth round.

The fight was for the nine-stone championship of England. During the first three rounds everything was for Smith, who showed himself the more clever, but for the remainder of the contest Roberts had his own way, and he dealt out a lot of severe body punishment.

In the eighth round Smith made no attempt whatever to defend himself. He was twice knocked down, and then counted out. Bubsequently it became known that his right arm was dislocated in the fourth round, and at the sixth his legs were badly cramped.

Then, after what Announcer Nelson said would be ten minutes' interval abetween rests." Nouroulah three Wittmer again. It required just three minutes to win the second fall and the match. Wittmer is a giant, as giants go in America. He is also a good wrestler; in fact, one of the best men in the United States. Nouroulah handled him as an ordinary man would a babe.

Wittmer was clean cut, perfectly built, long, lithe, muscular and of elegant proportions. Negaroulah was dark as a negaro and hirsute as a bear. Wittmer was white and clean as Tean marble. Wittmer is skillful. The Turk does not know Wittmer just as a mother tosses a playing babe—by ability to lift; and dispose of the weaker body as she pleases.

Mike Mooney was referee. They felt each other for a minute. Then Nouroulah so this sreat arms about Wittmer, and threwing his ponderous leg behind the American, handled his 350 pounds upon his breast. Wittmer bent like a sapiling under a failing cak. As he did so the back of his neck caught the ropes of the ring. Nouroulah was on top of him.

Mooney made them take the center, giving Nouroulah the hald he had won in the fixed half nelsons, but they were ineffective because he does not know how to properly apply them. He liked them, but finding ken work of the men was a spent of the weaker body as she pleases.

merit, however, lies not in the fact that it shortens the game, but in the fact that it imparts more action to the play. There is more alertness and watentumess on the part of the fielder and batter.

As to shortening the game, there has not been as much demand for that sort of thing as might be supposed. Pitcher Charles Nichols of the Boston club, speaking on the subject, pertinently observed:

"Persons do not object to seeing games two hours long provided there is closeness and excitement. If a game is dull, they do not care for it, whether it lasts two hours or only an hour and a half. Our game with New York the other day lasted only one hour and twenty-eight minutes. That was hour and twenty-eight minutes. That was hour and twenty-eight minutes. That was too short.

"Whether a game be lively or dull cannot be regulated by legislation of playing rules. The changes inaugurated promise to improve the game because of increased celerity of movement and ginger rather than from the standpoint of the watch.

"The foul-strike rule will probably be considered a hardship more than once by home crowds," Nichols continued. "Take instances where there are men on second and third and a hit is badly needed by the home team and the batter drives a ball foul along the base line, only to have it called a strike. Spectators are apt to regard that a strike. Spectators are apt to regard that as a hardship. True, the other team may be in the same boat, but the home sym-pathizers are less disposed to think of it pathizers are less disposed to think of it then,

"I know that the rule gives the pitcher more confidence and the batter's confidence is decreased proportionately."

When told that the batting had not suffered any, he said:

"I think it will, however. An average of .350 will come pretty near leading the League this year. I look to see a falling off of twenty-five points in the batting. It will affect the good stickers less than the mediocre ones. The .300 hitter won't feel it as much as the .250 hitter. Batters of the Hamilton, Burkett and Keeler class only want one strike to hit the ball.

"I cannot say that I am in love with the new rule preventing a pitcher warming up after the batter is in his box. It will be tough on the men in the spring, when they after the batter is in his box. It will be tough on the men in the spring, when they want to limber up as much as possible and take no unnecessary chances with their arms in cool weather. You will see a bigger average of strike-outs with the foul-strike rule. Two or three was the rule last year, except on an exceptional day."

Concerning the prediction of Nichols, the average of strike-outs this season by the winning pitcher for the first six games is 4 5-6, for the pitcher of the losing team 4 1-3.

Turf Congress Handicap at Nashville Proved an Interesting Spectacle.

SPRING SEASON OPENED WELL

King Bramble Defeated Robert Waddell at Aqueduct by a Short Head-Close Finishes at Tanforan.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Nashville, Tenn., April 22.-Racing was naugurated at Cumberland Park this afteroon, and, despite the disagreeable weather, the meeting gives promise of being the most successful in the history of the track. The fear that the outlaw rule of the Western Jockey Club would deter many horsemen from coming to Nashville was quickly dissipated by a glance at the list of stables. Nearly every prominent owner in the West is represented, and the quality of the horses indicates that the contests during the week will be of the highest order.

The presence in the stand of Captain "Billy" Cheatman, Doctor Ed Carr and John Greener inspired confidence in the public. Eight books handled the money in the betting string, and three favorites won, as follows: Talala, Kindred and Kaloma. Jockeys C. Combs, May. W. Woods and Troxler, who were recently reinstated by the Turf Congress, had mounts during the afternoon, and all landed winners but Troxler. The latter has grown big during his ler. The latter has grown big during his enforced idleness, and 104 pounds was the lowest at which he could ride.

There was some misunderstanding before the race opened regarding these jockeys, as President Overton was disinclined to let them ride. The matter was patched after a conference between Mr. Overton, T. P. Hayes and Mr. Robinson of Robinson & Leech, and the boys were allowed their mounts.

Terminus a Good One. The feature of the day's card was the Turf Congress Special. The race was won by Terminus, the bay colt of William Schafer. Terminus is a 3-year-old and is by Biazes, out of Miss Bishop. He made a good record last year as a 2-year-old, and the contest Monday was his urst for this season. Only three horses went to the post in this event, the other two being Silverdale and Lady Strathmore.

Silverdale was the favorite, at 7 to 10; Lady Strathmore, at 6 to 5, and Terminus stood low in the betting at 12 to 1. The trio were sent away to a good start, Silverdale and Lady Strathmore running well together a length ahead of Terminus, until the three-quarter pole was reached. At this point Akers, who was riding Terminus, called on the bay, and he responded nobly. He passed the other two with apparent ease and won handily by two lengths. The jockeyship of Akers was highly praised. The mile was made in the time of 1:42, and this is considered good, as the track was rendered slow and sticky by the morning rains.

From a Good Field. New York, April 22.—Three favorites, one well-played second choice and two outsiders accounted for the six events at Aqueduct on Monday. A big crowd witnessed the sport. The starting was fairly prompt, but the track was rather slow.

Five horses started in the handicap, the fourth race on the card, and it furnished the struggle of the day. Speedmas cut out the running for haif a mile, with King Bramble, the favorite: Royal Sterling and Robert Waddell in close order, a length away. Rounding the turn King Bramble moved up and took command when straightened out for home. Robert Waddell went right after him, however, and a hard drive to the wire followed, in which King Bramble lasted long enough to win by a short lead. Speedmas beat Royal Sterling a head for third money.

The other two to score were Hoyden in the first and Manitoban in the third race. Both were at odds-on. Mercer, at 6 to 1, earned brackets in the sixth race. Golden Prince, played from 4 to 5 to 11 to 5, won the fifth, and Neither One, at long odds in the last, won by a head from Juvenile. Burns and Bullman divided the jockey honors with two wins.

O'CONNOR COMES TO LIFE. Rode Three Winners at Lakeside-

Track Heavy. Chicago, Ill., April 22.—O'Connor retrieved lost laurels at Lakeside Monday by riding three winners. In the third race he had the mount on Rancoe, and his saddle sipped while the horse was in a good position, causing him to slow up. The day was cold and the attendance small. Track heavy.

Divertisement 19 INAUGURAL ACCEPTANCES.

Advance Guard, Tayon and Other Good Ones in the Stake.

Acceptances to the St. Louis Inaugural, to be run May II at the Fair Grounds, were announced yesterday. Several of the probable starters in the race, including Pinochle, Verify, Linden Ella, Orleans and Hottenot, are already at the track. Tayon is on the way here from San Francisco. Advance Guard and Gold d'Or are also coming from the coast to start in the race. Johnny Huffman is getting his pair, Found and Van Hoorebeke, in shape at his form near Greenville, III. He prepared What-er-Lou for the Inaugural at his farm the year the son of White captured the stake, shipping the horse here only a few days before the race.

Brewer Schorr has left two of his 3-year Brewer Schorr has left two of his 3-yearolds, Silverdale and Farmer Bennett, in the stake. Larkspur, winner of the Montgomery Handicap at Memphis, and Duelist, winner of the Turf Congress Stakes at Memphis, are also left in the stake. The Conqueror II and W. J. Deboe, both of which have run sensational races at Lakeside recently, are probable starters. A complete list of the acceptances will be found fred Cook, the St. Louis from the Memphis meeting $6,200 winner. He will make book at Louisville until the St. Louis meeting opens. Cook's horses will be shipped to St. Louis from San Francisco Wednesday or Thursday. Tayon, the stable's candidate for the inaugural, will leave Frisco Tuesday in a car, bound for Chicago. From Chicago the horse will be shipped here. Tayon is in the Inaugural at 109 pounds, and it looks as though he is going to be a hard horse to beat at this weight. Dominick will probably be here to pilot Cook's crack in the big St. Louis event. Tayon has won his last two starts at Frisco. He ran six and a half furlongs the other day in 1:1912, with 106 pounds. This is a new track record for Tanforan Park. Tanforan Park.

Barney Schreiber's big stable arrived at the Fair Grounds Saturday in charge of Trainer Richard Williams. The Schreiber string is headed by Bannockburn, one of the best horses on the American turf. The famous son of Hayden Edwards is looking fine as silk. He wintered well, but his trainer is doubtful about the horse's underpinning. Bannockburn has been more or less of a cripple ever since he broke down in his 3-year-old form. Forte, Stuttgart, Sarner and Jerry Hunt are among the other old horses in the Schreiber string. Forte is a great performer over a distance of ground. Sarner is a 3-year-old, by Kingston. He was rather a disappointment in his 2-year-old form. Jerry Hunt is a first-class selling plater, but, like Bannockburn, this horse is troubled with "dickey" legs. The 2-year-old division of the Schreiber aggregation is quite extensive. The best-looking youngsters in the bunch were stred by Imp. Sain, sire of Corrigan, and Zirl. Corrigan is the sensational juvenile performer of the season at San Francisco. He won the valuable Great Trial and Western Foal Stakes at Tanforan Park recently. Mr. Schreiber has a grand-looking bay colt by Imp. Sain—Caroline Hamilton, called Father Wentker. This youngster was named in honor of the Catholic Parish priest at Bridgeton. St. Louis County. The horse is a half-brother to Tayon. He looks like a stake horse. Another good-looking colt by the same sire is called Otis. This youngster is a dark bay. His granddam is the famous old blind mare, Agnes, by Gilroy, that produced Robespierre, Jacohin, Macbeth II, Danton, Laura Agnes and other noted horses. Mr. Schreiber owns Agnes and Laura Agnes, the dam of this colt. A black filly by Imp. Sain—Gratitude is another prize-looker. This filly is a half-sister to Lottle Mills, Good Hope and other useful performers. Her name is Schwalbe. The most promising of the Imp. Foul Shots is a bay colt out of Apozia, dam of last season. Sofala was by Belgowan, and the pick of this sire's get in the Schreiber stable at the Fair Grounds is a bay

C. A. Tilles, president of the Fair Association, received a long letter yesterday from Colonel William S. Barnes, proprietor of the Melbourne stud in Kentucky, commending the appointment of P. A. Brady to the position of presiding judge at the Fair Grounds and Delmar. According to Colonel Barnes, Mr. Brady has every qualification necessary to succeed as a racing judge. Colonel Barnes served for many years as chairman of the Board of Racing Stewards at Washington Park.

Joseph Martin, who is a member of the Turf Congress License Committee, is op-posed to the promiscuous reinstatement of Jockeys without the consent of the racing judges who set them down. "Several boys jockeys without the consent of the racing judges who set them down. "Several boys who were under the ban endeavored to get a license to ride at the Little Rock meeting," said Mr. Martin, "but I notified them then that under no circumstances would I vote to place them in good standing again unless their requests for reinstatement were indorsed by the judges who put them on the ground. I have already voted against the reinstatement of Troxier, Combs and other riders until they have compiled with my wishes in the matter." R. J. C.

FAIR ASSOCIATION CHANGES. Hachmeister Secretary and Martin

The directors of the Fair Association held a meeting Monday and elected John Hachmeister secretary in place of Joseph A. Murphy, and Joseph Martin treasurer in place of William M. Lockwood. Messrs. Murphy and Lockwood resigned recently. Mr. Hachmeister has been assignant secretary of the association for many years. Mr. Martin has also been connected with the association in various capacities for many years. No action was taken relative to the resignations of Dick Dwyer and Jake Holtman, who had been engaged to do the starting. The association anticipates no trouble griting a competent starter. AN ATTRACTIVE SHIRT WAIST.

Men's Box-Pleated Garment of

Last season men who appeared in shirt waists were the subject of endless crip-icism and newspaper jests. This summe these waists will be an established mode and will, no doubt, be generally adopted by men who seek comfort as well as style. One of the most attractive shirt waists is here illustrated, developed in blue and black percale. It is shaped with a shallow back yoke to which the box-plaited back is attached. The fronts are also plaited, and the cle

ing is made with small pearl buttons and button holes worked through the center

8298-MEN'S BOX PLAITED SHIRT WAIST. 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inch breast.

The waist is adjusted with an elastic of tape run through a casing at the lower edge. The neck is completed with a standing collar, which is fastened to the neckband by means of collar buttons.

The regulation shirt sleeves are slash at the wrists, where they are finished with pointed overlaps and shallow cuffs.

Shirt waists in this style may be made of madras, cotton cheviot, gingham or striped zenbyr. zephyr.

To make the waist in the medium size will require three yards of thirty-six-inef material. The pattern, No. 8288, is cut it sizes for a 34, 36, 35, 40, 42, 44 and 46-inch breest measure.
